

Concert at St Boniface Church, Whipton – 7.30pm Thursday 18th May.

The Exeter Police and Community Choir present its end-of-season concert in Exeter on Thursday, May 18 at St. Boniface Church, Whipton.

This gives the choir the opportunity to sing a wide selection of the music they have been performing throughout the season. This includes songs made famous by John Denver, Perry Como and Simon & Garfunkel, as well as two songs from the popular musical Les Miserables.

The choir's Musical Director is David Williams and the accompanist will be Sam Nickels who also regularly accompanies the Lypstone Military Wives Choir. There will also be two performances from classically-trained baritone Mervyn Hayes, well-known for his support for FORCE, the cancer charity.

The concert starts at 7.30pm. Tickets, priced at just £6.00, are available from Ray Tabb on 01392 660868, the Rev. John Byatt on 01392 462206 at St. Boniface - or on the door.
