

MATTHEW WRIGHT

Matthew Wright, a Lancastrian by birth, has lived for many years in Devon, playing music, teaching and writing books. He was a scholar and chorister of St John's College, Oxford, and was awarded piano diplomas by the Associated Board and Trinity College of Music.

He is Assistant Organist of St Margaret's Church, Topsham, and accompanist to the Exeter Singers; he has also been Organist to the Clerkes of St Giles, pianist in the Confederates Jazz Band, a member of the Laudian Singers of London and Capella Festiva of Poughkeepsie, and accompanist to the Chester Choral Week, Exeter University Choral Society, Exeter Chorale, River City Chorus and many others.

His favourite composer is Bach, his favourite food is Toblerone, and his favourite colour is turquoise.